FRIDAY, JULY 14, 1916

Under sea voyaging reminds the Warren Chronicle that we once had the "underground railway."

On Tuesday President Wilson signed the good roads bill carrying an appropriation of $85,000,000 which means the improvement of many miles of road in all parts of the country.

President Wilson will be formally notified of his nomination by the St. Louis convention the first week in August and Justice Hughes will be notified of his nomination by the Chicago convention.

John D. Rockefeller, the richest man in the world, celebrated his 77th birthday last Saturday playing golf on his fine estate in Cleveland. His health is excellent and he promises to enjoy many more years of life.

The U. S. Senate knocked out the free seed distribution clause in the agricultural bill and it remains to be seen whether the House will have the courage to do the same thing. It should. During the last four years the government has spent $1,110,933 for seeds sent free in many cases to people well able to pay for seeds they use.

Judge Hughes has been asked to come to Ohio as soon as possible after the August primaries in order to make one or more speeches. The object of the Hughes visit, if it can be secured, is to dissipate the feeling of apathy which has given the state leaders alarm. With the gathering of the troops here he interest in politics subsided and it became assured that unless Republicans were aroused they would go into the hard work of the campaign in poor shape.

FINE APPOINTMENT MADE

On Thursday President Wilson sent the name of Judge John H. Clarke of Cleveland to the Senate for confirmation as Judge of the Supreme Court, the appointment having been made to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Justice Charles Hughes.

Judge Clarke is thoroughly fitted for the high station and his appointment brings honor to Mahoning county so long his home. We all rejoice in his preferment.

THAT DUTY ON DYES

There is wrath in the elephant corral and gnashing of teeth in the tents of the tariff barons. The democratic revenue bill now before the house provides for a temporary protective duty on dyes, and the republican members cry aloud that the democrats are stealing their thunder.

The cry is natural, but not correct. The democrats are taking a leaf from the students of economics, not from G. O. P. tariff makers. The protection offered in the democratic bill is limited to a brief term of years, while the new industry is getting established. After that it must take its chances; and here is the point where the new bill diverges sharply from republican practice, and agrees with the only branch of economic thought which tolerates the protective notion at all.

No educator of any standing dares teach any longer that protection should be continuous, that incompetent manufacturers should be saved from the consequences of their inefficiency forever and ever, world without end, amen. Everywhere, save in G. O. P. tariff making conclaves, it is admitted that protective duties should be discarded or reduced to a revenue basis as soon as the new industry has had a chance to get established. It is this idea which is expressed in the democratic bill, not the "principles" which produced the Aldrich tariff.

Even so, The Journal is not particularly pleased with the measure. Experience has shown that when any group of manufacturers get their fingers into the public treasury, it takes a surgical operation with an ax to get them out again.—Chicago Journal.

THE PRESIDENT IN DETROIT

President Wilson again makes it plain in his address at Detroit yesterday that under no circumstances will he allow himself to be hurried into war with Mexico. Henry Ford's "My hat is off to the man who has kept us out of war and will continue to do so" will find a response in the hearts of hundreds of thousands of Americans.

"We must respect the sovereignty of Mexico," declared Mr. Wilson in answer perhaps to certain critics who have recently urged an immediate invasion and complete intervention in the affairs of the republic to the south. In striking contrast to repeated utterances of Col. Roosevelt, echoed by Judge Hughes, come this clear intimation that the administration contemplates no alteration of policy.

In no other community in the United States, perhaps, would such a declaration as this of the president's be received more cordially than in Detroit. Rightly or wrongly, Ford has gained a reputation as being the pacifist center of the United States. What Henry Ford thinks the city he has advertised so well likes to reiterate as its own.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Says They Are Wonderful

Hot weather is doubly dangerous when digestion is impaired. Constipation, sick headache, biliousness, or other conditions caused by clogged bowels yield quickly to Foley Cathartic Tablets. Mrs. Elizabeth Slauon, So. Norwalk, Conn., writes: "I can honestly say they are wonderful." F. A. Morris, Canfield.—adv.

Good looks may catch a man, but it takes good housekeeping to hold him.

SALEM

Many roads in the neighborhood of Salem are torn up while being paved, greatly inconveniencing travelers. But within a year or two Columbiana county will have many miles of the best kind of roads and then we will all have much to be thankful for and can forget our present road troubles.

New apples are in market at 8c a pound but the demand is not great. The marriage of attorney Royal Schiller, son of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Schiller, and Miss Martha Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Holmes, will occur Saturday at the home of the bride on Franklin avenue.

Real estate matters are looking up in this city and property is now higher than for several years.

Flow Mihan, an Italian who came here from Sharon Sunday to visit friends, was walking with others along the Pennys tracks when he caught his right foot in a frog near the Leasport crossing and to have him from being killed by a fast train that was approaching friends grabbed and dragged him off the track but the man suffered a compound fracture of his leg.

Extensive preparations are being made for the annual harvest home picnic to be held at Shelton's grove the last Saturday in August.

The Baptist Sunday schools of this city and Alliance will hold a joint picnic in Rockhill's grove near Alliance next Wednesday.

Misses Emma Pinkle and Anna Tate, teachers in the Salem high school, are among the teachers of winning at the annual industrial picnic held Saturday, July 29, in Idora park.

M. J. Buell, a rural mail carrier from the local postoffice, is very ill with appendicitis.

John Shearer, an Austrian 40 years old who was employed at the Buckeye plant, died Monday of pneumonia, leaving his wife and three children.

Candidates for county offices are dusting around at a lively rate these days. There is a small army of them and all are confident of winning at the August primaries. To hear them tell it, A. Macmillan firm secured the contract at $30.10 a ton for pipe to be used in extending the city water mains.

Now people are complaining about hot weather when not two weeks ago they were grouchy because the air had frosty splinters in it. Humanity is never satisfied with conditions no matter what they may be.

Ralph Gee, son of postmaster Geo. Gee, has gone to Maunus, N. Y., to attend a military school during the summer.

The new pavements covered with sand for two weeks have been cleaned and are now open to traffic.

Dennis Daugherty, aged 78, died Tuesday night.

Leon Davis of this city was thrown from a motorcycle near Batavia, N. Y., Monday and badly hurt.

The Goodman sisters have sold their millinery store to Miss Enid Kilbreath.

Emma Betz, 52 years old, died Tuesday and was buried Thursday at Franklin Square.

YOUNGSTOWN

Under the sliding scale agreement of wage payment in the iron and steel mills this is the day that the prices will be determined. The sheet scale, effective in the mills of the Youngstown Iron & Steel company, Brier Hill Steel company, DeForest Sheet & Tinplate company, Trumbull Iron & Steel company and Western Reserve Steel company, all of this district, provides an advance for every member of the crews in the plants mentioned, of 1 1/2 per cent for every point reached above $2.15 per 100 pounds.

Clerks and carriers of the postoffice enjoyed a picnic at Southern Park Sunday, in company with their families and friends. A ball game and a concert by the civil service band of 22 pieces were features of the afternoon.

A work car crashed into a passenger car on the Youngstown and Sharon electric line last Saturday evening and 16 people were more or less injured.

On account of the high price of ice in this city, higher than is paid in Akron, Canton and other cities, officials are considering the question of establishing a municipal ice plant.

Improved traffic condition on the Dr. amount must be provided. Between automobiles, vehicles of other kinds and pedestrians the congestion during the busy hours is something fierce.

Fuddies are now receiving the highest wages paid in this valley in half a century.

Dead Man's Curve out on the Boardman road is to be made safer by the county commissioners.

Henry Smith, for many years a shoe merchant and leading citizen, died suddenly last Friday night, aged 63. Local attorneys will ask the next legislature to pass a law making it necessary to state the exact amount of money paid for land when deed is written. There are now too many $1 and other valuable considerations.

Harry Daugherty is here working up interest in his candidacy for U. S. Senator nomination by the republicans. He thinks he can best M. T. Herrick at the August primaries.

An automobile driven by T. F. Williams ran into a line owned by Detective James Watkins Tuesday night on Powers Way and both machines were badly damaged and several men injured. It is charged that the Struthers man was intoxicated and he will be prosecuted under the state law and if convicted it will go hard with him.

A lot more machinists have been brought to the city this week to break the strike which has been on since May 1. The new men are quartered in the plants and it is said receive very high wages.

LOCUST GROVE

The Baptist church at Locust Grove will hold a festival on the school house lawn Saturday evening, July 15. The grandstand will furnish music. All invited.

Wheat is turning a golden hue and will be ready to harvest next week.

Gave the Baby Rest

Children just cannot keep covered at night and that is one way they take cold. Foley's Honey and Tar is a reliable family cough medicine that contains no opiates or harmful ingredients. Mrs. Wm. Leonard, Pottsville, Pa., writes: "My baby had a very bad cough. The first dose gave her relief." F. A. Morris.—adv.

Geo. Harter and Henry Blosser had business in Youngstown Monday.

This is a fine week for making hay and farmers are taking advantage of it.

THE DOUBLE TASK

Even at this late day it seems necessary to point out that President Wilson has a double task in dealing with Mexico. He must exact reparations for the many outrages which this country has suffered at the hands of Mexican chieftains, and he must try to do this in such a way that the western continent will not be moved to fear and hate the United States as a self-seeking aggressor.

The present administration has been wonderfully successful in winning the confidence and friendship of Latin America. The good will of Argentina, Brazil and Chile, not to mention the smaller powers, is a splendid asset to this country, both in making and in enforcing that good will would be forfeited in a hurry if the administration seemed to be guided by the clamor of jingoists and the selfish persuasions of Wall street concessionaires.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

—Mrs. Ellen Crum, wife of postmaster C. D. Crum of Cuyahoga Falls, died last Saturday of Bright's disease, aged 61.

—Mrs. Hannah Parsons, who for half a century was engaged in the millinery business in Ravenna, died last Saturday in Rootstown of apoplexy, aged 80.

—A Beal law local option election will be held in Lisbon Saturday, July 29. The town has been dry two years and citizens generally are satisfied with conditions.

—On Monday Mr. and Mrs. Junior Burrows of Girard celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary. They are the parents of 12 children and these with a company of friends and neighbors joined in the anniversary festivities.

—The residence of Cyrus Smith near Bailey's Corners in Lordstown township was destroyed by fire Wednesday morning, the blaze starting from a chimney spark. Neighbors saved much of the furniture. Insurance $1,000 which will half cover the loss.

—John C. McCorkle, wealthy real estate and stock dealer of Warren, has been made defendant in a $50,000 breach of promise suit, filed by Anna Ruth Kramer. She alleges McCorkle promised last November to marry her, but instead married Miss Amanda Gerber.

—A. B. Christy died last Friday in the Rees house of pneumonia. He was born in Berlin township 70 years ago and after graduating from Mt. Union college and the Ohio State university spent his entire life as a teacher. He is survived by his second wife.

—After filling well for 22 years the post of editor and publisher of the Burton Leader C. J. Olds this week retired from the office, with a big bag of money, the Dispatch hopes, turning the business over to his sons Harmon and Francis who have grown up with the paper and know the job. But they will have to go some to beat dad as a newspaper maker.

—The Mahoning county board of commissioners is seriously considering a plan to put up metal signs throughout the county at crossroads to direct travelers on their way. The time-worn signs in that county are indistinct, and seem to have served their duty. In this county the signs are indistinct, they have entirely vanished.

—Columbiana county commissioners would be doing a great service to the entire county were they to follow the example of the Mahoning board. This county has a great many diagonal and cross roads that are confusing even to residents of the county because there are no markers to guide them.—Salem News.

Death of Mrs. David Miller

Sarah Ann Miller, widow of David Miller, a former resident of Ellsworth, died June 30 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jesse Diehl, in Warren, death being due to the infirmities of old age, she being in her 86th year. She had been in failing health for about six months and retained all the faculties of an active and useful christian life, until her Lord with whom she daily sought communion called her home. She was a native of Austintown, having been born there Feb. 16, 1830. She with her husband had spent their entire lives in Ellsworth, until nine years ago, when she went to make her home with her daughter, her husband having died in 1899. She was a member of the Methodist church, having joined at Ellsworth, when a child, and where she still retained her membership, and where her life and work were felt for good throughout the community. Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Jesse Diehl, of Warren, one son, Oliver S. Miller, of Berlin Center, and one grandson, Floyd M. Diehl of Warren. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. John H. Butler, of the Ford Ave. M. E. Church, Warren, at the home of her daughter, after which the body was laid to rest in the cemetery at Ellsworth. "Not lost, but only loaned to God and heaven there to abide, and await their coming."

British Blockade Not Illegal

Prof. J. B. Bowman, dean of Mt. Union college, who is well versed in the matter of international law, when questioned by a representative of the Alliance Review as to his opinion concerning the submarine, Deutschland, said: "Relying upon the information at hand from newspaper accounts, as long as the men manning the Deutschland are merchant marines in the service of the navy and as long as the boat carried no torpedoes or guns for offense, the United States can scarcely regard it in any other light than that of a merchant vessel. I do not consider, however, that the British blockade is as yet to be termed illegal for there would be no blockade runners if a vessel was not able to escape occasionally. Even the escape of a half a dozen vessels would scarcely be called "breaking the blockade," but rather running it. If vessels should continue to run through in reasonably large numbers, the blockade could eventually be termed inefficient and broken. The fact that the Deutschland was observed and pursued shows that this will be difficult.

"As to the Deutschland itself I would say it accomplished a marvelous feat, in that it is the first submarine to cross the ocean carrying that amount of freight and escape practically unobserved. The German efficiency and skill in this instance is highly praiseworthy."

The Question

The real influence of a real home is the most helpful factor of modern life. It is a comfort to the parents, an incentive to the children, a place of good cheer to the friends and an inspiration to all. Don't spend all your life on some one else's property. Own a home.
